Nowadays many people pretend to be disabled as a way of gaining some money from the well-wishers and donors. A young lady aged thirty four years used to have the habit of sitting with her child near a busy supermarket known as Budget.

The lady used to report at the point at the crack of dawn. That was her routine duty. One of her techniques was to use her son to tell the passerby that they had gone without food for three days due to poverty.

So, one day a woman who was as black as coal came out of the supermarket. She requested the lady to offer them accommodation and take the child to school. The mother instead refused and ignored the conversation.

The lady who was a police officer suddenly discovered that the mother of the child was not genuine. She took the legal action because it's the right of every child to be in school not in business.
