Maria is in standard five. She likes going to school, but over the weekend and during the holidays, she also enjoys helping her mother at home. On Saturdays, her mother usually goes to the market to sell bananas and then Maria looks after her young brother, Mulei, as well as doing some of the housework. Sometimes she takes Mulei, who is four years old, to play with the neighbours' children while she goes out to collect firewood.

One Saturday, during the August holiday, when their mother had already left for the market, Maria prepared breakfast and called Mulei to the table. However, he hardly ate anything. He had a stomachache. Maria advised him to lie down. Mulei lay on his bed, but a little later he started to have diarrhoea. Maria began to feel worried when he kept on going to the toilet. She wasn't sure of the best thing to do but she decided to give Mulei some porridge.
