Ongeri lived in the village of Manyatta. He lived alone in a small hut because he was not married. He had a big farm where he planted maize, beans, cabbages, onions and carrots. He liked working in his farm from seven o'clock in the morning until noon. Even though Ongeri lived alone, he was a happy man becasue he never lacked food. After some time, he started experiencing a certain problem. His food was disappearing from where he kept it.

Ongeri wondered what always happened to his food. Every evening before going to bed, he made sure that he kept the food safely in the cupboard. But the following morning he always found the cupboard open and food missing. This troubled him a lot. He asked his neighbours to help him solve the problem but no one gave a solution. After many weeks, he decided that he had to discover who stole the food.

One day, he put food in a bowl and decided not to close the door of the cupboard. He then went to bed and pretended to be asleep. He had to catch the thief. It was now very dark because he had already put out the fire. However, he had his torch under the pillow. One hour, two hours, three hours nothing unusual happened. After four hours, he thought he heard some noise. He listened carefully. He sat up, torch in his hand. Before he made a move, he began to feel afraid. "Suppose it is a gang of robbers," he thought. Immediately, a neighbours cat sprang out from the cupboard and passed through a space which was under the door.
